

Dear students,

Welcome to Pathophysiology !!

The Pathophysiology course consists of lectures, seminars and laboratory exercises (labs), all of which are held on weekly basis.

Lectures and seminars will be held online and available at the course online study platform at <http://studiesinenglish.med.bg.ac.rs/moodle/course/view.php?id=88>

New lecture will be made available every Wednesday at 14:00 hours starting on 07/10/2020.

Seminars will be held online either as live streams or pre-recorded, in which case they will be followed by further activities online such as quizzes, essays, forums or chat rooms. To attend the seminar please log on to our online study platform at time designated for your group (preferably a few minutes earlier), open the seminar activity and follow the instructions. Seminars start on 05/10/2020.

The seminar times are:

For Seminar Group I (S1): Mondays at 14:30

For Seminar Group II (S2): Tuesdays at 14:30

For Seminar Group III (S3): Thursdays at 17:00

Groups are listed in a separate document available in the General section of the online study platform.

Labs will be held “live” (NOT online) at the Lecture Hall of the Institute for Pathophysiology, located on the ground floor of the Pathophysiology building – Dr Subotica street number 9. The building is located at the bottom of a small alley that starts between the “Batut” institute and “B” clinic for internal medicine (see pictures below)

Figure 1. Map view. Pathophysiology building is designated by the blue dot and encircled in red. The arrow follows the alley. For reference head building (Deans office – “Dekanat”), Pathology building, Internal medicine clinic “B” and “Batut” institute are marked as well.

Study materials that help you prepare for the lab, and later for the practical exam, will be available online on Friday week before the lab in question.

Attendance is compulsory for labs and seminars. You have to make-up all missed labs. You do seminar make-ups if you miss more than two seminars per semester.
